Life Cycle Approaches to Sustainable Regional Development

Edited by Stefania Massari, University of Salento, Italy, Guido Sonnemann, University of Bordeaux, France and Fritz Balkau, Sustainable Solutions, Paris, France

Life Cycle Approaches to Sustainable Regional Development explains the ways life cycle methodologies and tools can be used to strengthen regional socio-economic planning and development in a more sustainable manner. The book advocates the adoption of systematic and long-term criteria for development decision-making, taking into account the full life cycle of materials and projects. It describes life cycle practices from both a scientific and a practitioner point of view, highlighting examples and case studies at regional level.
